Market Harborough's Phoenix Saxophone Orchestra will be performing a joint fundraising concert at St Hugh's Church on Granville Street, Market Harborough on Saturday 18 March.

This nationally acclaimed orchestra plays a varied repertoire that ably demonstrates the versatility of the saxophone. From classical music, jazz, swing and big band favourites to modern pop, film and traditional folk songs, there's something to appeal to all musical tastes.

Nominated for a national award by the Royal Philharmonic Society in 2021, Phoenix Saxophone Orchestra features seven different types of saxophone, from the sopranino to the contrabass sax, and makes a truly rousing sound.

Orchestra members will also be demonstrating their musical versatility with some solos and small group performances - not only on saxophone, but vocally and on other instruments too.

Tickets are £10 each (£5 for under 16s), to include a glass of wine or a soft drink. All profits will be split equally between Phoenix Saxophone Orchestra, which is a registered charity, and the St Hugh's Cygnet Fundraising Project, which aims to build a welcoming, safe space for church and community to meet.

Partly funded by proceeds from the sale of the nearby church hall, the Cygnet Project aims to provide a larger community space within St Hugh's Church, separated from the worship area by a movable glass screen, along with a meeting room, kitchen, accessible toilets and storage, all reconfigured on one level for ease of access.

The Cygnet Project is so named because the Church's patron saint St Hugh is known to have had a swan as a pet. The Church is starting with a cygnet so that, over time, when the project is finished, it will have grown into a swan.

The concert starts at 7.30pm and tickets are available by emailing
