Dan Forshaw

Meet Dan Forshaw, the UK jazz scene's charisma king and sax maestro. But he's not just a player, he's also a true pioneer, having developed the multi-award-winning cambridgesaxophone.com website and his latest venture, sax.coach.

Dan is the first study saxophone tutor at the University of Cambridge, lectures on creative music at Middlesex University and was named UK music teacher of the year in 2020 and 2021.

But his classroom extends far beyond walls. Dan's YouTube channel @danforshaw has ignited more than seven million people with his infectious passion since 2016.

His mission is to unleash the inner musician in everyone, proving age is just a number when it comes to igniting a lifelong love of music.

About the workshop

Dan will be working with us on:

1. Releasing the power of the pentatonic scale
2. The answer to all your questions is simple – listen
3. Releasing your inner Coltrane

There will be a focus on pop and jazz music, with some improvisation included. Playing level for the day is Grade 3 and upwards. Parts will be sent out in advance, so there's no need to worry about sight reading.

The day will end with a 20–30 minute concert showcasing what we've learned during the day, and you're welcome to invite friends and family along to listen to this. Don't miss this fantastic opportunity to receive first hand, expert advice from this inspirational saxophonist!
